

Mountain Lodges of Peru

adventure at its finest

Choose your own itinerary with the launch of the new cultural programme on the Lares Adventure

There is something for everybody on Mountain Lodges of Peru's alternative route to Machu Picchu as guests can now tailor make their own adventures! The Lares trail remains a 5 or 7 day luxury lodge journey, but now an alternative cultural itinerary has been added, allowing guests to fully immerse themselves in the unique culture of the Lares Valley. The programme is now extremely flexible with clients deciding each evening what they'd like to do next day.

Options include discovering Andean culture in the local towns and villages, visiting ancient Inca ruins and walks in the remote mountains. Guests in need of some serious relaxation can even opt to chill -out in the luxury mountain lodge's jacuzzis.

The new programme is based around Mountain Lodges of Peru's recently opened lodges in the town of Lamay and in the rural community of Huacahuasi (a third lodge in the village of Patacancha is scheduled to open in spring 2016), which serve as deluxe "base camps" for cultural tours and for day walks designed for a variety of hiking levels and abilities

Each day, those on The Lares Adventure can tailor their itinerary, typically combining half a day of group activities with the choice of a cultural activity or a hike. For example:

5 day Lares - Day 2

Group Activity: In the morning, explore Lamay town briefly and visit the archaeological site of Ancasmарca.

Activity Menu (Afternoon): - Cultural activity: Visit Choquecancha town and meet with the local weavers.

OR - Optional hike: From Cuncani to Huacahuasi / duration 3-4 hrs. / moderate / mountain pass at an elevation of 13,838' – 4,219m.

On the Lares Adventure, Mountain Lodges of Peru aim to provide guests with a unique and genuine experience of Peru, mixing seldom-travelled highlands, with impossibly hued turquoise lakes, archaeological wonders, thought-provoking Andean cooperatives, bustling markets of artisans and flavours of the region. But most importantly, the Lares Adventure visits Peru's hidden communities, unchanged for centuries, where you can interact with the local people and appreciate their way of life.
